COCHRAN FILLY A WINNER

COLORS OF PROMINENT NEW YORKER
CARRIED TO VICTORY AT BOWIE.

New Track Attaining Popularity with Eastern Race-goers—Yesterday's Races at Course Near Washington Well Contested.

Baltimore, Md., April 9.—W. R. Midgley, trainer for Gifford A. Cochran, uncovered what promises to be a shifty filly in the first race at Bowie this afternoon in Pleione, a daughter of Sain and Spindrift. Pleione was ridden by W. Lilley, came from behind in entering the homestretch and beat the favorite, Irrawaddy, in a driving finish. The races were well contested and attracted a large gathering to the new Maryland track. The management appears to have made a hit with the public and Bowie promises to become one of the popular courses of the east.

Today's races furnished interesting contests and in a majority of the finishes the winners were under punishment to score by small margins. Young Leader rode two of the winners, Toddling and Beau Peder, both of which scored in runaway fashion. Toddling incidentally was the only favorite that finished first. The victories of some of the other winners were costly to the ring, that of Pleione being especially so. The filly was backed from 12 to 1 to 5 to 1. The track was in good shape and speculation was extremely lively.

There were many arrivals from Cuba during the afternoon, including starter James Milton, T. K. Lynch, William M. Murray, William Kerryhart, Peter McGrath and J. W. Pangle.

The combination book was absent from the lineup this afternoon. Form has been well observed during the meeting and the handicappers put a crimp in the bankroll of the combination man yesterday, which was responsible for his non-appearance this afternoon.

William Garth reports that the good steeplechase mare The Welkin had foaled a bay filly by Peter Quince at his farm at Charlottesville, Va., and that the mare Siam Princess has foaled a filly by Aeronaut. Garth purchased during the afternoon the mare Chilton Queen from J. J. McCauley and she will be shipped to the Garth farm next week.

William Walker lost his useful mare Louise Paul out of the Menocal Handicap on the closing day of the meeting at Oriental Park; the mare was claimed by C. Hawk for $600. Mr. Walker shipped the remainder of his string to Toronto, where they will be rested at Woodbine for the opening of the Ontario Jockey Club meeting.

James Johnson has arranged to take over the horses that are racing in the name of Mrs. James McLaughlin at Bowie. The string will be campaigned on the Canadian circuit.

Brian Bora was stricken with an attack of fever this morning and was excused from starting in the fifth race.

Jockey Tommy McTaggart has arranged to leave for Kentucky one week from next Sunday.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Dr. Cary D. Grayson, the White House physician, enjoyed the racing at Bowie Wednesday.

Jockey G. Bernhardt, one of the oldest cross-country riders in this country, will ride again this year and it will make his eighteenth season in the saddle. This winter he has been galloping Chester Krum and Bowant, a pair that will race for D. Raymond, at Montreal.

The report comes from Hamilton that Judge Moeck, one of the directors of the Hamilton Jockey Club, has sold his stock to Smith & Colby, the Chicago firm that has had the ring privileges, A. R. Louden, former secretary of the club, will succeed the Judge on the board of directors.

Trainer B. Littlefield and Dr. Sterling of Waterloo were in Toronto one day this week, and report all the horses in J. E. Seagram's establishment as having wintered well. Seven foals have arrived, five of them fillies. The horses in training are doing their work on the farm track, and will not be moved to Woodbine until about the first week in May.

MUCH ACTIVITY AT LEXINGTON.

Many Horses at Work, in Preparation for Opening of Kentucky Association's Approaching Meeting.

Lexington, Ky., April 9.—Owners and trainers at the Kentucky Association track this morning were highly complimentary in their comments upon the program book for the spring meeting which was put into their hands early in the day by Judge William H. Shelley. The book contains conditions for sixty races to be decided during the twelve days beginning Thursday, April 22, and it seems to be the consensus of opinion that since it is a typical "Shelley book," some highly interesting contests are in store for patrons of the sport here.

Senator Johnson N. Camden was at the track and saw Luke, his Kentucky Derby favorite, work a mile in 1:43, handsly, the first three-quarters in a fraction better than 1:27. The one-eyed colt had up about 125 pounds and ran with an ease which indicated that he was feeling no ill effects from his recent hemorrhage. However, predictions as to whether he will or will not go to the post in the Derby month are not in order. Bringhurst, from the Camden stable, worked three-quarters, hard held, in 1:15%, and the two-year-old fillies, Bellita and Tausendsohn, sprinted through the stretch a quarter in 23%.

T. C. McIlwain provided much of interest for every one when he tried one of his charges for half a mile each, starting at the half-mile ground and finishing at the stand, and doing better than 50. Liberator, a candidate for the Kentucky Derby, ran fastest. Some watches had him as fast as 47%, which is faster than King's Daughter's 47%, the track record, but the majority seemed to think that 48 would be correct. Manager Waite, also eligible for the Derby, worked in 48%, while Water-blossom and Dark Flower, candidates for the Ashland Oaks, worked in 48 and 49, respectively. Other moves were: Chitra, 48%; Lady Jane Gray, 48%; The Norman, Star Jasmine, 49, and Huntress, 49%.

Will Young sent J. W. Parrish's Bulse, a candidate for the Idle Hour Stakes, a half in 49, and a few minutes later "Bud" May brought out John G. Greener's Connie, a candidate for the same stakes, and sent him the same distance in the same time. Other moves noted were:

Allen Bridgewater—Half in 1:44.
Back Bay—Three-quarters in 1:21.
Badinage—Half in 1:45.
Chalmers—Three-quarters in 1:20.
Deliver—Half mile in 51.
Dr. Carmen—Three-quarters in 1:16.

Maudie—Three-quarters in 1:18%.
Manice—Three-quarters in 1:17.
Orecan—Half mile in 51.
Outlook—Three-quarters in 1:16%.
Robert Bradley—Half mile in 52.

Stalwart—Three-quarters in 1:17%.
Star McGee—Three-quarters in 1:18.
Surget—Three-quarters in 1:17.
Water Witch—Three-quarters in 1:16%.

Jockey Fred Teahan, who is to ride for Jack Weaver, arrived today from Windsor, his home. W. R. Mize states that there is a demand for his trip to Bowie. His Terrible Bill is due here tomorrow from the Maryland track in company with Ed Murray's Chad Buford.

R. L. Baker's Anna Bain foaled a dead colt by Pop Day this morning.

J. C. Milam today bought from Warner & Hozan the two-year-old fillies Viola Mabel and Lillian May. Mr. Milam's Jersey this morning foaled a bay filly by Rapid Water.

JOHN REARDON WINS ANOTHER PURSE.

El Paso, Tex., April 9.—The rejuvenated John Reardon scored his fourth successive victory in the Pachagua Handicap, the special feature of today's card at Juarez. The distance of the race was seven-eighths of a mile and John Reardon had speed enough to follow the pacemaker most closely from the beginning until the time came for his rider to send him to the front. Pontefract came from behind to figure as the runner-up at the end, with Hard Ball third. Mangane, which made the pace, quit badly towards the end.

The day's results were, on the whole, formful. Truiane, Commendation and Charity Ward were second choices that scored, while Noble Grand and John Reardon were winning favorites.

The strings of E. J. O'Connell and P. J. Miles, with a few horsemen that own but a single horse each, made up a carload that left for Louisville today.

Edward Winters, representing the Ft. Worth Stock Yards Company, purchased the following horses for speculative purposes today: Capt. Druse, George M. Howard, Fred Drew, C. K. Davis, Elma and Wood. He states that there is a demand for horses for saddle and utility purposes in Texas.

Recent work-outs of horses in training at Juarez were as follows:

EUROPEAN WAR DEVELOPMENTS.

"Germany does not expect to win a smashing victory, but will never sue for peace. The end will come when the allies tire of a hopeless waste of blood and treasure and propose to end the conflict." This is the attitude of Germany at this time. It is in substance what has been stated informally within the last forty-eight hours to the United States government. That Kaiser Wilhelm caused this statement of his position on the question of peace to be presented to the American government on the eve of the opening of the spring campaign, in which Kitchener's new army of 1,000,000 men is scheduled to play an important part, is regarded at Washington as significant. The peace terms which Germany would be willing to consider at this time also have been communicated to the United States. Briefly, they are these: Germany proposes the restoration of the status quo in Europe, which means no extension of territory by any of the belligerents. Germany proposes a redistribution of the colonies of the belligerents in Africa. Germany, while evacuating Belgium, will refuse to pay any indemnity to the latter, but would be willing to pay a reasonable price for the Congo Free State, the Belgian colony in Africa. Germany proposes that Britain and all other nations enter into an agreement establishing the freedom of seas and the immunity of all commerce from attack in time of war. Germany is unalterably opposed to relinquishing Alsace and Lorraine to France, although the Berlin government is known to have considered recently a proposition that the Kaiser keep the Flemish part of Belgium and give France the French part of Alsace and Lorraine.

Recklessly sacrificing lives, the French have commenced and are gaining momentum daily in their drive upon Metz. Thousands of Joffre's troops have fallen in the tremendous assaults aimed against the German salient which juts forth from St. Mihiel, but still they continue. Little less heavily, according to the Paris communique, have the Germans suffered in their desperate efforts to stem the tidal rush of the French. The French spring campaign, which is believed to be well under way despite the handicap of wretched weather, consists in a terrific drive on Metz, the nerve center of the German line of communications, which will practically paralyze the Kaiser's entire western line. Unfaltering success is claimed by the French in their every effort against the German wedge. The heaviest fighting is going on in the forests of LaMorville and Milly and on the fortifications around Verdun. Through floods and marshes, swollen streams and treacherous quagmires attack follows attack and counter-attack, counter-attack. And in all these battles the Germans are being driven back foot by foot and the German wedge is slowly but surely being blunted. So the French claim. On the other hand, Berlin official statements declare that the French are exhibiting a remarkable disregard for human life without profiting thereby. Tremendous French losses are recorded by the German headquarters, which claims that not a inch of ground has been lost by reason of these terrific attacks.

With the Russian force in possession of all the main summits and slopes of the Beskid mountains, army officers at Petrograd assert that the Austrian operations in the Carpathians have collapsed. The Russian general staff is considering the best approach into Hungary. Operations centering about Mezolaborce, including the important points of Bartfeld, Lupkow and Uzsok, appear virtually to have ended, with the Austrians on the defensive along the whole line and perceptibly weakened. Deep snow, which still covers the Carpathian ridges, stands in the way of a rapid advance into Hungary. Once this difficulty is overcome and the Russians reach the southern slopes, where signs of spring are beginning to appear, the most serious obstacle to a further advance will be the artificial defenses which, it is assumed, have been erected. The country between the Sand and Laboreza rivers is believed to provide the best route. The Russian staff is of the opinion that the Germans have transferred all available troops from other fronts to defend this region, and that, therefore, they will be unable to offer any more formidable opposition than heretofore. On the other hand, it is expected that the German answer to the Russian offensive will be the development of a new movement in Poland, starting from Thorn or Cracow. But the invasion of Hungary is regarded in Petrograd as a foregone conclusion, unless the Germans are able to transfer a formidable force of first line troops to stiffen the Austrian armies.

German troops again have established themselves upon the west bank of the Yser in West Flanders, driving the Belgian army out of Grachten. The German war office officially announced this success yesterday afternoon in an official statement. The Germans captured one hundred prisoners, two officers and two machine guns. This is the second time the Germans have occupied Drai Grachten in ten days, having been driven out by Belgian artillery fire early this week. The Germans also claim the capture of French trenches in the Champagne district. French attacks in the Woerwe district continue without any progress accruing to the attacking forces. At several points the allies' positions were bombarded with incendiary shells in retaliation for the shelling of French villages behind the German lines.

The Rome Messaggero and several other Italian newspapers publish dispatches from Paris and London according to which the allies have opened negotiations with the Italian government with a view to offering territorial compensation for Italy's active aid in the war. The compensations to be offered are Corsica and Tunis, as well as some territory in East Africa and the complete Italian possessions in that part of the dark continent. The dispatches add that the allies are willing also to recognize Italy's claim to the unredeemed provinces and to any further territory which she might wrest from the Ottoman empire.

Yesterday's official communication from the French war office is as follows: "British troops repelled during the night of April 7-8 a German attack. We left unoccupied in the teeth of the enemy German trenches at Epargues which were completely choked with bodies, and we repelled at the close of the day two counter attacks by the enemy. In the wood at Ailly we captured new trenches and repelled two counter attacks, as already reported. We also took six machine guns and two trench mortars. The enemy ceased his counter attacks after midday."

An attempt was made to assassinate the Sultan of Egypt, Hussein Kamil, at Cairo. As the sultan was leaving Abdin palace a native fired a shot at him. This went wide, and the native was immediately seized. Prince Hussein was placed on the throne by the English on December 18 last, the former Khedive having been deposed because of his pro-German sympathies. Hussein, in everything except birth, is more of an Englishman than a Turk. He was educated in England, and is in full sympathy with the English annexation of Egypt.

The question as to whether an understanding between Italy and Austria is possible and whether a separate Austro-Russian peace treaty is probable are discussed from different points of view by the press of the Italian capital. The papers agree in saying that the two questions are closely related, for if Russia, with the permission of her allies, obtains what she desires and comes to terms with Vienna, it is impossible to imagine that Austria would be willing to make territorial concessions to Italy.

Recruiting for Lord Derby's Dockers battalion at Liverpool began with a rush. Three hundred and fifty-five men enrolled in a short space of time, filling three companies, which it is proposed to start. Three times this number volunteered. This battalion is organized for the purpose of rushing work on munitions and the men will wear an army uniform.

A telegram from Avlona says 40,000 Albanians, led by German and Turkish officers, are collected between Elbasan and Tirana for an attack on Durazzo and subsequently on Scutari as a part of a concerted plan for distracting the Balkan states from united action against Austria and Turkey.

The French movement between the Meuse and the Lorraine frontier is developing a distinct offensive with General Joffre pushing his advance, while the Germans are making fierce counter attacks. This is the substance of the latest dispatches reaching London from the continent.

Veterans from the battle-seasoned army of General von Kluck are being sent into the Woerwe district (between the Meuse and Moselle rivers) to check the furious French drive against the German left wing, according to reports made by aerial observers at Verdun.

The captain of the Blue Funnel line steamer Thebes, which left Liverpool March 27 for Java, has sent back a report of an exciting chase by a German submarine. The Thebes managed to escape, but was damaged by shell fire from the submarine.

Advices from Berlin state that the French offensive in the forest of Ailly, southeast of Verdun, has been broken and that the allied forces are in retreat west of Apremont. These reports have not been confirmed either in Paris or London.

Charles Dyson, a reporter, was fined $25 in England, for supplying news to the press calculated to be of use to Germany. Dyson, a Newcan, editor of the Southern Times, was fined $50 for publishing a report of a similar nature.

The Portuguese bark Doure was torpedoed by a German submarine and sunk, according to a dispatch from Swansea, where the captain and crew were landed.

Considerable supplies of ammunition and artillery are reaching Turkey through Roumania, according to the London Daily Mail's Athens correspondent.

French troops from Africa are ready to assist the allied fleets and British expeditionary forces against Turkey.

HORSEMEN AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, April 9.—The first delegation of horsemen to return from H. D. Brown's Havana race meeting reached here early this morning on the steamship Furcula. In the party were John H. Madigan, president of the Erie Jockey Club; Charles Campau, one time star outfielder of the New Orleans ball club, but who is now associated with Brown; "Fatty" Phillips, Tom Buckley and Jess Hughes. The party will spend a few days here before going north.
